Diver Training Introduction

Forward Diving offer diver training for all, whether you have never dived before or are at stage where you want to extend your diving experience to a more technical level.

Here at Forward Diving Services we aim to offer the very best in training, we train using the PADI system of diver education, which is recognised as the leader in its field for professionalism in diver training. It is currently accepted in over 175 countries world wide, more than any other organisation. Our courses are kept small in number to ensure optimum learning and safety using fully qualified and enthusiastic PADI Instructors with years of experience. Anyone aged 12 years and over can embark on a PADI Open Water course as long as they are "fit to dive"! We have welcomed students into the underwater realm from 12 to 70 years of age with success and enjoyment from everyone. We offer a full range of PADI courses from open water to assistant instructor and an extensive variety of specialties.

Keith and his team of instructors use the latest technology to make learning enjoyable whilst having fun in the comfort of the on-site classroom, during all training the team at Forward Diving adhere to all PADI & HSE regulations for diver training to ensure only the best safety and learning. Keith enjoys an indisputable reputation as one of the UK's finest and most knowledgeable instructors with teaching experience spanning 10 years and hundreds of student certifications to his name.
